also A: The below is one approach using sed which will replace new line with comma if there are no other white spaces in the same line and output as comma separated using comm(1) utility. `sed -r's/\s*//input_file | while read -r line do echo $line | sed's/\s*//g'| comm -12 done` OR `sed -r '^s*//!s/ /,g' input_file | while read -r line do echo $line | sed -r's/\s*//| comm -12 done` Note: Add -r after sed to make it read in the entire file and do not stop on first match [The pathophysiological mechanism of impaired microcirculation and local immunity in children with acute post-meningitis encephalomyelitis]. To study the pathogenesis of impaired microcirculation and local immune function in children with acute post-meningitis encephalomyelitis (APME). The local blood flow, immunoglobulin content and the activity of the constitutive enzyme of alkaline phosphatase were determined in the periventricular zone, in the subcortical zone, in the two cerebral lobes and in the whole blood; the endothelial cell damage was evaluated morphologically; the function of phagocytes was determined. The microcirculation in the periventricular zone was significantly impaired. The local immune status was in relation with the severity of the endothelial injury. The rate of phagocyte activation in APME was reduced by half compared to control. The New Era is a simple and elegant watch. This beautiful watch is designed for the American man.
